HONOKONG, NOVEMBER 18TH, 1911.

THE solemn force of passing "by order of the Secretary of State "legislation to which the Colony, as represented by the Unofficial Lewis. Members of Council, is unanimously opposed, was once more played in the Legislative Council on Thursday. A Bill to amend the Defence Contribution Ordinance was before the Council for second reading, and the Unofficial Members desired to give effect to and these were on board when he left port, but their previously expressed view that the when he returned they were missing. A fine military contribution of the Colony should of $10 was imposed. no longer be "a sum equivalent to twenty per cent. of the Colonial Revenue," but Shankiwan on Wednesday, Inspector Gourlay a fixed sum of one million dollars per met with a nasty accident. After his search anunm. H.E. THE GOVERNOE, however, said | the inspector was about to descend from the he had been instructed that the Bill had to be cookleft, which was in darkness, when he caught passed without amendment. This is done his eye in a book attached to the low ceiling. On by requiring that the Official Members, who his return to the station he went to hespital and constitute a majority on the Council, shall had his eye dressed. be so many automaton figures who move in the desired direction when the Governwas thus able to fulfil his instructions. notwithstanding the unanimous opposition of the Unofficial Members. Howwas made perfectly clear by His Excellency that the passing of this ordinance did not mean that the recommendation of the Unofficial Members. which was sent to the SECRETARY OF STATE in June last, has been definitely rejected Though the ordinance in its terms confirms the present basis of levying the military contribution, its main purpose was to prisoners and about $2,000 worth of contraband | that the Government have introduced a Bill exerapt the railway revenue from this levy opium, as well as hundreds of pipes and "layuntil such time as the railway ceases to be a outs," which will be used as evidence against his explanation to the Council incidentally disclosed that there is no improvement in the transaction of business in the Colonial Office. It is five months since the recommendation of the Council went home, and His Excellency had to confess that he had not had a reply to his dispatch. He could only say that he had heard unofficially from the Delegates from the Colony to the Coronation that the SECRETARY OF STATE had told them that he was about to appoint a departmental committee on which the Colonial Office, the War Office and the Treasury would be represented. We had some recollection of hearing of intention on the part of Colonial Office twelve or eighteen months ago and turning to Hansard we find that His Excellency mentioned in a speech in October, 1909, that he had received news that the SECRETARY OF STATE WAS about to take up the question and appoint a Commission. The right hon, gentlerian has not yet got beyond the stage of being "about to appoint"; at least, no information of the actual appointment of the promised departmental committee has yet been received. Perhaps, the amendment unanimously supported by the Unofficial Memhers of the Legislative Council on Thursday will serve, when it reaches the Colonial Office, to recall a promise which seems in tatives of the Provinces met at Shanghai, danger of being entirely forgotten. Hongkong has a strong case both for a reduction in the military contribution and for making it a fixed annual sum, and the Unofficial Members, we are sure, will be supported by the taxpaying community any steps they may take to press this view upon the attention of the powers that be in Downing Street. It is certainly some acknowledgment of the unjust incidence of this contribution that the Colonial Office should have sanctioned an ordinance to exempt the railway revenue from this levy. But even allowing for this exemption, the Colony will be paying next year $372,089 over and above the million that the Unofficial Members of Council urge should be the limit of the Colony's contribution to defence, plus the $41,000 provided for the upkeep of the Volunteer Corps.

NAVAL SERVICE IN THE YANGTSE.

A writer in the Globe remarks :-The present state of things in China is likely to keep our flotilla of gunboats stationed on the Yangtse River, and, especially those in its upper waters, busy for a long time to come. Time was when the only vessels we had on that station that could navigate the upper waters of this great river, above the present storm centre of Hankow, with any degree of safety, were the old flat-iron gunboats of the Esk class. One of the old bugtraps of an earlier type was once taken as far above Hankow as the city of Changsha, which stands at the mouth of the first great lake on the right bank of the river after leaving Hankow for CHIEFTAINSHIP OF A HIGHLAND -Foster made 101, which included twelve Ichang; and trips were also made by the lightest draft gunboate up as far as Ichang, at the mouth fours, giving a very fine exhibition of driving of the famous Yangtse Gorges, which is the point at which all up-country goods were changed from the bottoms of river steamers into the holds of native craft, and towed up stream by vast armies of men known as "trackers." The Esk, however, was for many years permanently stationed above Hankow, and wintered at Ichang, which remains a great commercial "entrepot. SPORTING NOTES.

All the winter sport is now in full awing Football, oricket, hookey, yachting, etc., not to speak of the eternal lawn tonnis, and needless to say most of the male population is feeling more sest in life-than a few months ago when the summer seemed to sap all the latent energy.

Taking cricket first, as its importance demands, it is satisfactory to note that the League competition is providing some interesting oricket. The favours so far have been fairly well distributed, though the R.E.'s. are decidedly in the better position. They have only played two matches and they have wen both. Civil Service after going strong had to acknowledge defeat at the hands of the R.E. by the small margin of seven points. The disappearance of the H.K.C.C. from the League has certainly left the struggle for the trophy more open than ever it was before. Kowloon is making a bold bid this year and has together a very strong eleven, and Civil Service are in hopes of making a good showing. The Police are not very sanguine about their prospects though at the same time they expect to improve upon last year's position.

The triangular league formed by the Hongkong Cricket Club, the Army, and the Navy was inaugurated this week by a match between the Services on Tuesday. To day the Civilians and the Garrison meet on the Club Ground.

League football has made a very good start, and the five teams are making a very fair exhibition. The Hongkong Football Club is the only civilian team in the competition, and it must be gratifying to theold hands who have followed the fortunes of this organisation for so many years to see the old club going so well this year. Indeed, I am told on good authority that not for several years has the Club got together such a capable team as at present. It has started well by winning its first two matches by handsome margins. The military teams are getting into form, though some of them have not quite complete! their make-up yet.

In the second division of the League there is a greater manifestation of interest than there has been since its inception. The new blood has certainly infused some more life into the competition, and a good spason may be anticipated.

Hougkong is just now witnessing a remarkable revival in the noble art of self-defence, and unlimited sport should be provided during the coming winter. There are signs, however, of the sport being "worked to death," and if promoters continue as plentiful as they have been recently, pugilists will be at a premium, "fakes" will follow, and the sport will decline.

The star promoter at present is Bill Lewis. He has gained the confidence of the public. by the many interesting tournaments he has furnished, and the fights which he has arranged for December 2nd promise first class sport. The contest between Shuter and Potter, Dann and Biggins, and Lewis and Hudson should prove exceptionally interesting. Lewis is at present training at the V.R.C. with Gunner Burt and others, where he attrac's large orow.

Jack Blackmore's first big fight here will be with Seaman Grant, and if he is successful in defeating the sailor heavyweight he will probably be matched against Lewis. Should Blackmore fose, however, it is possible that Lewis and Grant will meet, for Bill is ready and will: ing to enter the ring, notwithstanding the big difference in weights. The probabilities are, however, that the match for supremacy will be between Lewis and Blackmore, and it may be arranged to take place in the City Hall on December 23rd.

The Royal Hongkong Yacht Clab had a successful opening last Saturday, and the prospoots of a successful season are very bright. The Corinthian Yacht Club had a good opening on Sunday, and had some splendid racing.

The bowling match between the members of the Hongkong Club and the Club Germania resulted in a victory for the Germans by 323. This is the sixth competition for the fourth shield, possession of which is decided by securing the most wins in 21 matches. The previous

The three chiefs have agreed that, while none of them abandons his claim to the supreme chieftainship, they are to cease from active assertion of their claims, and when any question of precedence occurs the difficulty is to be solved by casting lots for the occasion. It has also been agreed that henceforth Sir Alexander Bosville Macdonald is to be entitled to assume the old title of Macdonald of the Isles, because that designation had been generally associated with the Home of Sleat.

THE—REVOLUTION.

THE INCIDENT ON THE BRITISH FRONTIER.

The report which has appeared in the Press of the capture of eleven revolutionary soldiers carrying arms and rebel flags within British territory gives porhaps a rather misleading account of the incident, the true facts of which we are informed are as follows :--

The party, were making their way to Shauta-kok by the usual road in a perfectly peaceful manner when they unwittingly crossed the frontier. They were disarmed by the police and their flaga taken from them, and when the error into which they had fallen had been explained they were escurted across the frontier and their arms and flags returned to them.

STRAY NOTES ON THE REVOLUTION.

Mr. Chang Ming-chi, ex Viceroy of Canton who by the courtesy of Mr. Stabb, the Chief Manager of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank has been occupying one of the Bank residences during his brief stay in the Colony, left for the North by the German Mail steamer yesterday. Every precaution was taken for the protection of the late Viceroy while he remained in Hongkeing down to the time of the ship's departure He had his queue out off, and provided himself with an outfit of European clothing while in the Colony.

In certain Chinese quarters in Hongkong we gather that the action of the Government in allowing the ex Viceroy to seek asylum in the Colony is much resented. We mention this only to remind these revolutionary enthusiasts that their leader, Sun Yat Sen, undoubtedly owes his life to the protection which the British. flag gives to every political refuges.

One very remarkable feature of the revolution is that the revolutionary bank notes are at a premium of 20 per cent. Only strong patrictic sentiment can account for this. It is interesting also to observe that these notes were printed to be issued six years ago! -

Those who have had the chance of seeing what kind of men these new rebel recruits are, who have seen the brutality depicted on nearly every countenance, who have seen the predatory instinct so clearly manifested on nearly every feature of these men, cannot but be convinced that the new authorities have introduced a force which, unless the most careful handling is exercised, may prove an instrument for their own undoing.

No steps have as yet been taken to suppress the gambling that is rife now in almost every street. In Honam, which so far has been fairly free from this recrudescence of gaming many tables have been erected outside the temples and wharves, and dezens of men and youths are to be seen crowding round, all eager to stake their few cents at the shrine of the Grddess of Chance. In the interests of public morality it is to be hoped that the Provisional Government will take this matter in hand, for the longer it is allowed to proceed unchecked the harder will be its ultimate suppression.

UNDER MARTIAL LAW. A meeting was held yesterday in the Chamber of Commerce of members of the 72 Guilds and the 9 Charitable Institutions to consider ways of raising money for the new Government. , No definite arrangement was come to, and the meeting then turned its attention to the question of the military element in the city. It was resolved to request the Head of the Provisional Government to issue a notice calling on the soldiers to agree among themselves and preserve the peace. The Guilds then advocated the disbandment of the robber companies who have come into the city, but Wu Han Man said that it could not be done, as these men hidalready been regularly enlisted. He agreed, however, to send off the members of the "Dare-to-Die" Society (a set of extremists among the rebels) to the North as soon

THE REVOLUTION IN SWATOW.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT

November 15th.

There have been no startling events here since the proclamation of the republic five days ago; peace and order are still preserved, and dee 's of violence are conspicuous by their absence, The "peaceful" persuasion used to bring about this result depends for its motive power on dynamite. Every revolutionary soldier appears to carry one or more bombs. When a conversion | chew, Hokien and Hylam. Whilst these addressto the new political faith is being compassed, the prospective patriot is given the option of peacefully submitting, or of being annihilated (in company with the proselytizer) by a bomb In only one case does this argument seem to have failed : one of the Amazons of the revolu- tionaries. A half portrait of Dr. Sun Yat Sec.

tion threw the Republican ensign to the launch of the Water Police, and required them put it up in place of the Imperial colours. They refused, and hurled back the offending rag with was to be a performance for raising funds for offensive epithets. "Very well, then," said the lady, " if you won't have the one, you shall have the other," and with that she produced the inevitable bomb. But before she, an unathletic woman, had time to hurl her missile, the launch had sheered off and was soon well on its way to the outer harbour, where it stayed until the orew obtained satisfactory financial terms. The next day (November 11th) the launch was fly.

Nervous Collapse, Brain Fag, Neuralgia—

For getting things done, making things go, the invigorating stimulus of Phosferine cannot be equalled, says the Rev. A. H Field. Fully aware that as a clergyman he is bound to make sure of the accuracy of his estimation of Phosferine, this gentleman states that, distinct from other cases, he has verified and tested the efficacy of the tonic himself. It was Phosferine, and Phosferine alone, he says, which raised him from the nervous collapse, remedied the brain-fag and neuralgia which held down his efforts and arrested his plans over a lengthy period. Since taking Phosferine he is entirely free from nervous distresses, and -can-put-his-whole heart and energies into his work, and indeed, such is his activity that he has roused many helpers to his cause. Experience has taught the Rev. A. H. Field that numbers of people do not realise their languor and half-hearted efforts are due-to lack of nerve force, and he believes they will quicker appreciate the efficacy of Phosferine by learning of his own recovery.

Have No Existence Now.

Rev. A. H. Field, 336, Brettenham Road, Walthamstow, writes: "It gives me much pleasure to testify to the beneficial effects of Phosferine in many cases of nervous disorder, where I have advised the use of your tonic. Some four years ago I myself had a nervous breakdown, and a friend advised Phosferine. I took his advice, and I speedily found that I had acted wisely, for the neuralgic pains and the mental weariness soon took flight, and I was thoroughly braced up. Recently some members of my church, at my suggestion, tried the remedy, and were quite satisfied with the beneficial results. I have advised its use now for nearly four years, and in no case has it yet proved a failure. When one thinks of the great number of so-called nerve remedies, it is satisfactory to find at least one upon which reliance can be placed. I wish your Phosferine every success. When preaching away, I have noticed Phosferine finds a place in the village homes."

A NEW SEA THERMOMETER.

The marine microthermometer of Louis V King, of Montreal, is designed especially to give warning on shipboard of the neighburhood of icebergs made invisible by fog. The instrument depends upon the change of electrical resistance with temperature, and consists of an iron wire coil of high resistance scaled watertight between two copyer cylinders, and connected by suitable conductors to the electric battery and to a Wheatstone bridge in the chart-room. The coil is supported about 5, bridge gives measurements of the resistance then, as the iceberg was left, a rapid rise to register upon the film. 38.48 degrees.

Experiments with radium on eggs, embryos, larvae and bacteria have given various results, such as retarded growth, the development of monstrosities, and early death. For Bronchitis "Advised by an Eminent Doctor."

Old. Northampton. Dear Sirs, -After suffering from bronchial catarrh and stomach catarrh without relief, I was advised by an eminent authority to try Angier's Emulsion. For the benefit of those similarly afflicted, I have much pleasure in stating that, after taking your medicine for some weeks, I have been entirely cured of both the above troublesome complaints, and have also become stronger in every way than I have been for many years. I can confidently recommend all who are troubled with similar ailments to take your excellent preparation. (Signed) REV. H. K. HASLAM.

NO OLD WOMEN.

I do not think anyone who goes about London with the open eye can have failed to observe a very startling revolution in the attitude of women to the whole question of life -a revolution which has not been entirely bloodless. That women should have a woman's cause, should be prepared to suffer for it and make many self-sacrifices in the shape of service to further its ends, are only aspects of the phenomenon. There is a growing ditference in woman herself, in her expression and carriage, in her method of dress, in her ways of thought and her whole attitude to life. I should say the sum total of it means an inborn determination to be in the game of life itself instead of standing outside the arens, a protected and sometimes pumpered secolator. Just as men challenge each other as nations - a neglected force creeping into strength and finally existing as a standing menace—so within the nation a neglected force is growing, and the time will come when woman, assuming an equal intelligence, will demand from the challenged power. of mes an equal opportunity. The end of that challenge and the outcome are secrets to be found only in the running sands of time. "THERE ARE NO OLD WOMEN."

And one aspect of the changing attitude of woman may be gleaned by observing the old woman. Or one might say that the man who desires to observe the old woman in London will fail for the simple reason that there are no old women nowadays at all. Aged she may be, counting the years and outward signs, such as silvered heir-if she be very honest-but old she is not, nor will she ever become so in her attitude to life. In the past the proverb was "A man is as old as he feels; a woman as old as she looks." Its significance is being revised with startling effect in our own day.

The proper place of a wom in was, in the old days, at home. In youth they decked her out as one more line of goods in the matrimonial market-in the hope that some lord of creation would come along and take her off the shelf. He bought her with vast condescension, as some idler in an unaccustomed place might buy on seeing exposed for sale a bird of rich plumage and haunting powers of song. He took her home and put her in a cage, and maybe in time -for it does happen that way out of the romantic stories -the owner grew tired of his possession and did not linger even to listen to the song. The singing bird became more of a sparrow growing dingier and dingier, and the melody of its youthful notes gradually diminished and became a withered, fretful chirp. Long before she became a dingy as a sparrow woman's main claim to ex stence, her decorative value in the home, began to weaken, and, mostly indoors, she warmed her withering hands at the waning fires of life, often a neglected, and at her best a tolerated, appendage of the house. The tragedy of women at this period of waning beauty may be visualised by watching the tiuted leaves fall one by one from a noble tree in autumn.

THE HAT MAKES THE WOMAN. But that is not the woman of to-day. She does not sit at home. In what used to be her decorative days she learns a professon or trade, an art, or craft, and does not much care whether there is even a bid in her matrimonal offing. Even when there is, the bird that is to be caged bargains with the buyer-stipulates for the policy of the open door and her right to dy in and out as she pleases. When there are young birds in the nest, to her entire credit she comes often to see how the fledgelings are progressing. I have not yet seen anything in thewoman's movement that implies neglect of maternity. She becomes increasingly careful of her clothes in these matronly days, and as she grows of for she becomes more radiantly youthful. No longer does the woman of to-day look in the glass, see crow's feet multiplying with wrinkling vigour, and count her grey hairs in despair, thinking of her place in the corner of the house and conducted and protected journeys without, in a bonnet and a rusty gown. No, she goes to a better costumier and a thoughtful constructor of corsets, changes her hairdresser or a more skilful oraftsman, practises face massage, and increases her milliner's bill. It is the hat that makes the woman, from the or die to the grave, and the bonnet of a generation age often agest her and labelled her old and uninteresting even before she had stapped out of youth. Only women who really like trouble and spend their lives searching for it wear bon. netsto day. The wise old woman invents new ways of hurlressing and gives her married daughter lessons, in the superb man ter, on the choice of hats and in the more difficult mater of wearing them when they are secured. THE FIRESIDE AND LAVENDER.

Twenty years ago the ageing woman gave up the battle of life without a fight und crept off to the fireside in faded lavender. Survey a volume of Punch, which is an admirable record of our social habits, and you will see at a glance that in the old days only the young women stood up and occupied centre seats. Matrons and very old-looking aged ladies gossiped in out-of-the way corners. To day you cannot tell a woman is aged either by her manner or her dress, but if she is attired with becoming youthfulness and is susplciously young and fresh in her range of ideas and her manner of speech you may begin to suspect she has passed seventy and is really biding the approach of her eightieth birthday. If the woman is figed in looks, tired and worn, neglected in dress even to the point of frumpiness, the shrewd observer realises she is apposching the twenties and has come face to face with the appalling knowledge that she is a woman, born to the burden of leading a onceenslaved ser to the promised land. The old woman had become used to the horror and injustice implied by being a woman. She hasprobably done her share of leading revolutions and accomplishing a man's work infinitely better than he ever did it himself. She wins her way to youth by her age, and in the end the old woman becomes the young woman, because she takes up the charming things younger women are neglecting in their haste to be manly. She knows the beautiful trappings which have decked women through all the ayes and made their passage a riotous procession of colour in a world that can be odiously drab, may once have been symbols of slavery, but undercertain conditions can be turned into signs of freedom and power. She has begun to take up when she needs it most the neglected weapon of her sex, and to use it with a new understanding and authority which her younger sisters are now too busily engaged to attempt to acquire until in their turn they find themselves growing old.

CONSTIPATION.

The Cause of much Suffering.

When the Bowels are clogged the waste matter decays and ferments and enters the blood, and is carried to all parts of the body, producing Headaches, Biliousness, Sleeplessness, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Indigestion, Neuralgia, Rheumatism and various other ailments disturbing the Heart and Nervous System, and if continued is liable to cause inflamation of the Bowels, Liver and Kidneys. Nature often requires a little assistance, and if this assistance is given at the first indication much distress and suffering may be averted. Mothers, especially, should guard the health of their children, and inculcate regular habits from infancy. As a family remedy for Costiveness, Dr. MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS have a wide reputation. They are mild in their action, causing nomes weakness nor sickness and do not gripe, and may be used by old and young, weak and strong.

They are a perfect blood purifier and a positive and permanent Cure for Biliousness, Indigestion, Constipation, Headaches, Sallow Complexion, Liver and Kidney Troubles, Piles, Pimples, Boils and Blotches, and for Female Ailments.

DR-Morse's within the reach of all, 'The Pills being sugar-coated, are pleasant to take, and retain their full medicinal properties.

They are packed in amber coloured bottles-not in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes—and are thus always fresh and clean, impervious to moisture, unaffected by climatic conditions, and do not deteriorate by keeping as all liquid medicines do.

YOU NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

NEW SCALP PROPHYLACTIC

Newbro's Harpicide is the first Prophylactic for the hair and scalp. Its formula harmonizes with the theory (now a recognized fact) that dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair are of microbic origin. Herpicide defends the hair and scalp against disease, and by destroying the scalp microbe or dandraff germ (a tiny vegotable growth) it eradicates dandruff, stops falling hair and permits the hair to grow as nature intended. Almost marvellous results sometimes follow its use. Miss Clutter's letter and photograph certainly speak for themselves.

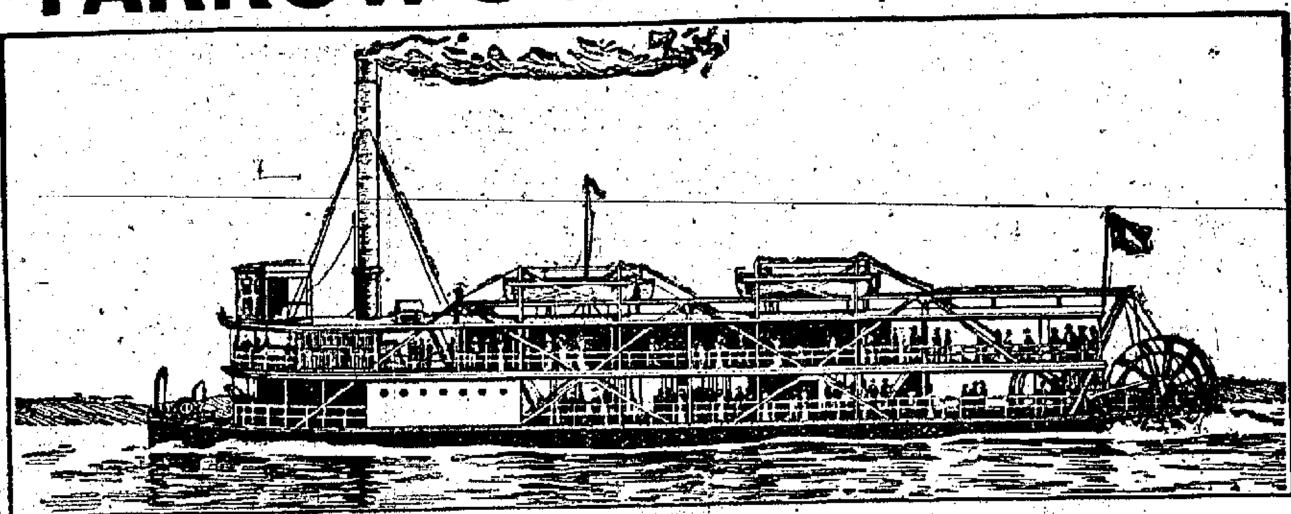

> "I herewith enclose you one of my latest photographs, which will show you what Newbro's Herpicide has done for my hair. Since using your remedy my hair is much lon ser than it was, and it has that lustre to it that one's hair always has when their scalp is in a healthy condition.

_(Signed) MADELINE CLUTTER, 4350, Berkeley Are., Chicago, Ill.

King Mongkut realized that without Wastern influences Oriental expansion and reform would be slow and diffioult, and at a time when so much as the appearance of favouring " foreign elements" met with secret suspicion, and sometimes, indeed, with open hostility, he laid broad and deep the foundations upon which his successor built.

A brief religious service, and a rite of water drinking in token of alle; innce, 'follow; but all other festivities and observances are deferred until after the expiration of a twelve months' period of mourning, and the cremation of the body of the deceased monarch. These deferred services are the celebrations that will shortly take place in honour of the new King, who is now thirty years of age. No little difficulty has been experienced in preparing the arrangements for them, as so many years have elapsed since they were last in use that many points are necessarily doubtful; but procedent wherever clearly established will be followed, and the impressive continuity of method of royal investiture will be followed. When King Chulalong Korn was orowned forty-two years ago, early in the morning of the 11th November, the day appointed for the foreign Cousuls and others who had been honoured with invitations to be present assembled at the Palace, where they were received by the Prime Minister, and by him conducted to the triangular court facing the inner Hall of Audience. Here the first of the ceremonies took place. To the strains of a band of native musicians the King left the Hall of Audience and proceeded to the Court, where he ascended a throne under a large canopy. His Majesty was attired only in a white waist cloth and shoulder-cloth, the reason of this simplicity of clothing becoming obvious when from the canopy overhead there poured a cascade of water.

which gave the King the first of THE THREE DRENCHINGS prescribed by immemorial usage. The second was accomplished by a Brehmin priest of high rank, who flung at the King the watery contents of a golden goblet; the third was performed by the oldest Princes of the realm, the Prime Minister, and the High Priests. Flowers and leaves were then offered for the King's acceptance, and His Majesty returned to the Hall of Audience. The second stage of the Coronation was hardly less curious. Having donned a splendid mantle of gold tissue, the King ascended an octagonal throne, in which there were eight reats facing the eight points of the compass, where he was surrounded by priests in attitudes of crouching humility, who instructed him, as the ceremony progressed, in his various responsibilities and duties, and also administered to him the eath of his office. Afterwards the King was conducted by priests and officers to a chair of State in the middle of the hall, and was presented as lawful King and Ruler. The presentation was made by two priests, one of whom was turned towards the people announcing to them that their King was before them, while the other hailed His Majesty Lord of the Realm and only rightful Sove-

NERVOUS DEBILITY.

ITS PREVENTION AND CURR.

Diseases apart, there is probably no condition held in greater dread by the inhabitants of hot countries than nervous debility. Everybody knows the conditions which produce it, as everybody knows the enervating and depressing effects which it causes. The immediate need of very sufferer obviously, to get better as quickly as possible. This is, however, by no means an easy matter with the use of the ordinary remedies. The consequence is that men and work depressed themselves becoming more and more depressed in mind and more and more weakened in body as the days go by, and they seem farther than ever away from the greatly desired and hoped

It is not easy to exaggerate the depression this combination of mental and physical weakness is capable of producing. It may even go to the extent of so unhinging the patient's mind that he seeks to put an end to his misery by self-destruction.

Happily, movern Science is able to hold out to these unfortunate people not merely a hope, but a promise of cure which amounts to an absolute certainty. The rehabilitation of the mental faor ties, the revitalization of the nervous unotions and the complete restoration of the original vigour and vitality, are all obtainable by means of Sanatogon, which is now universally known both by the medical profession and by the general public as the greatest tonic food in the world. ALWAYS KNOW THE REMEDY YOU USE. "It owes its unique reputation to its remarkable composition, which chemically combines the bodybuilding part of the purest cow's milk with that salt of phosphorous which is found in the brain and nervous system. These two, thus intimately combined, produce a substance as entirely different from themselves when merely mixed to gether as water is different from the two gases which compose it. The result of this chemical union Sanatogen produces a food which does not merely stimulate, but also revitalises and reinvigorates the whole nervous system, so that no matter how much its power has been diminished it is gradually restored, and keyed, as it were, to the pitch of perfect health. With the improvement of nerve and blood, the lustreless eyes become bright, the pallid, waxy complexion takes on the rosy hue of health, the flaccid muscles become strong and firm, and the everwearied body becomes vigorous, and permeated with an altogether unusual sensation of energy.

In part, some of these benefits are due to the restored nutrition of the body as a whole, for Sanategen is so easily digestible that it imposes no strain at all on the weakened stomach and digestive organs. These, naturally, share in the general condition of debility due to the lack of nervous force, and act with their normal vigour when the nerve force of the body-is-restored. Complete evidence of Sanatogen's value in overcoming this course of nervous weakness. furnished in the following letters from two of the most distinguished women living. TWO YAN OUS ENGLISHWOMEN. Lady Henry Somerset, the celebrated social reformer, writes: - "Sanatogen undoubtedly restores sleep, invigorates the nerves and braces the patient to health. I have watched its effect on people whose nervous systems have been entire y undermined, and I have proved Sanatogen to be most valuable. Even when this nervous condition goes to the extreme length of Neurasthenia, which often threatens the reason and the life of the sufferer, Sanatogen is capable of dissipating the gloom and dispersing the black clouds of apprehensions which overshadow the sufferer's life, and, if persevered with, will restore complete nervous and physical health. In this respect Madame Barah Grand, one of the most brilliant woman novelists living, writes:-" Banatogen has done everything for me which it is said to be able to do for cases of nervous debility and exhaustion. I began to take after nearly four years' enforced idleness from extreme debility, and now (after only months). I find myself able to enjoy both work and play again, and also able to do as much of both as I ever did." With regard to the nervous debility engendered by life in hot climates, Mr. E. C. Desbrulais, Bankipore, Patna. Bengal, writes:-" Sanatogen is just the thing for workers in India, and should always be carried, just as one nover goes about without chlorodyne, as it is the only remedy against the swful wear and tear of life in burning tropical climates." Sanatogen may be obtained of A. S. WATSON & Co., Hongkong; SINCERE Co., LTD., 215-21, Des Vonx Road, Hongkong, and of all Chemists.

GAMBLING FOR BRIDES.

HOW SOME MEN HAVE SECURED THEIR

A recent telegram from America reported that a feature of the "Orphons' Pienie" of the would be a raffle for a bride, a blonde of twenty summers, who had consented to marry the bachelor holding the lucky ticket. The tickets were to be ten cents each, and the couple would get a free marriage liceuce, be married free of trip and a house completely furnished.

few years ago the Finance Minister of Hungary was asked by a pretty Hungarian girl to sanction the issue of a lettery loan of 700,000 florins. Each ticket was to be of value of a flo in, and the purchaser of the winning ticket was to be rewarded with the lady's hand and the spoil, minus a commission of 10 per cent., to be retained by the Finance Minister to cover expenses in connection with the lettery. The Jucky ticket fell into the hands of the son of an Handy, torpedo-boat destroyer 295 tons, 6 gans, hotel proprietor, and he was so satisfied with the lady that he handed the whole of the money he received from the Finance Minister to her. It was not so very long ago when a game of chess for a wife was played in a Berlin restaurant. Two gentlemen of independent Kent, armoured cruiser, 9,800 tons, 14 guns, means became enamoured of the same girl, and in order to decide who should be the one to ask her hand in marriage they played a game of chess. It was one of the conditions that the loser should leave the Fatherland for two years, so that the winner should have a fair chance to win the heart of the girl during the other's absence. Surrounded by their intimate friends, the rivals sat before a chessboard in a private room at the restaurant and commenced the game which was to deprive the loser of all right to the girl and to exile him from the land of his birth. The younger man of the two table, shook his friend's hand and then left the room. A few hours later be was seated in a train that was on its way to Paris, where he intended to take up his residence for the period

arranged. WON BY THE TELEPHONE.

Mr. McCalpin, one of the managers of the the great Standard Oil Trust, was married a short time time ago to Miss Viola Kortkemp, a Robin, river gunboat, 85 tons, 2 guns, 240 h.p., young lady who had been employed at St. Louis telephone exchange. Whilst telephoning from Rosario depot ship for Submarines, 980 tons his office two years previously, Mr. McCalpin was fascinated by the voice that answered his call, and he finally introduced himself to the Sandpiper, river gunboat, 85 tons, 2 guns, 240 owner over the wire and begged to be allowed to visit her and "get acquainted." Miss Kortkemp was the girl, and when she found that Snipe, river gunboat, 85 tons, 2 guns 240 h.p. her admirer persisted in his attentions by telephone she obtained her transference to another Taku, torpedo boat destroyer, 305 tons, i.h.p. exchange. Not to be beaten, Mr. Mcl'alpin set two years he succeeded. This time Miss Kortgave him her name and address, and asked him to call upon her father for an orthodox introarranged to be married at once.

NO COAT, NO WEDDING. Some sixty years ago Thomas Hartigan of Renevo, Pennsylvania, was rejected the last moment by his sweetheart, Susan Thompson, because he insisted on being married in his shirt-sleeves if he was to be married at all. The couple were to be married one day in July. The wedding morning arrived and, the weather being very sultry, Hartigan informed his bride of his intention of being married without a coat. Miss Thompson replied that unless he were a coat there would be no wedding. Hartigan refused to obey the lady's wishes, and the wedding was indefinitely

Shortly afterwards Hartigan went to California and married another girl. When she died, years later, he returned to Kenevo, where he found his old sweetheart a married woman. She became a widow two years after Hartigan's reappearance, and finally he persuaded her to try a second matrimonial venture. The couple were happily married in ROTICE TO KOWLOON RESIDENTS the very fashion the eccentric bridegroom had proposed over half-a-century before-he without a coat. At the time of the wedding Hartigan was eighty years of age and his wife seventy-

_ NOVEL PROPOSE. A felt hat, purchased in a London shop, was found to have underneath the leather sweat band a proposal of marriage to any "single male" from a girl hatmaker. The man who found the message was a tradesman, and wrote a letter to the address given, enclosing his photograph. He married the girl eventually at Manchester, and the wedding was attended by scores of the bride's fellow-workers.
